Details

Availability

On the remain of the former Etruscan, Roman and Longboard roads, Via Francigena dates to the fifth and sixth centuries A.D. In centuries past, crusaders, Templars, pilgrims, merchants, Saint Francis of Assisi and even the great Charlemagne walked the Via Francigena from Northern Europe to Rome and to Jerusalem. Today, is one one the most important and suggestive walks in Europe and is connected with that of Santiago de Compostela in Spain... \(Read More\)
